

Metropolitan State College

DEPARTMENT OF PHILOSOPHY

June 8, 1987

To whom it may concern:

This is to recommend Larry Goldberg for an academic position.

Larry has been working part-time in our department for many semesters. He is an unusually energetic, enthusiastic and helpful person to have around. He is the kind of person who is constantly attuned to what is happening in a department and is ever ready to contribute his time and energy for the good of the department.

Larry has high pedagogical standards which have brought upon himself far more work than I thought was necessary. He spends a good deal of time with students and makes assignments that require lengthy responses. One often finds him working away on the students' behalf when others have called it a day. I have also heard him in discussions with students on a number of occasions and was impressed by his patience and concern. He has taught a wide variety of courses for us and consistently receives high marks from his students.

Larry is an intelligent and knowledgeable philosopher. He loves philosophy and is eager to discuss any philosophical issue.

For all these reasons, and the fact that he is a good-natured, good-hearted person, I can recommend Larry Goldberg most highly. He will make a very good colleague.

Sincerely,

Frederick Doepke
Chairman
Department of Philosophy